

Editors' Picks: 19 Things to See in New York This Week

There are openings for David Salle, Math Bass, and a collective led by Zanele Muholi.

Sarah Cascone, April 23, 2018

Maria de Luca, Crimson Sky Split (2018). Courtesy of TOTAH.

7. "Mara De Luca: Talisman" at TOTAH

Los Angeles artist Maria de Luca's unique take on traditional Abstract Expressionist painting incorporates references to communist propaganda and fashion advertising into her layered canvases. Her first New York show includes mixed-media paintings and one moving-image work.

Location: TOTAH, 183 Stanton Street

Price: Free

Time: Opening reception, 6 p.m.–8 p.m.; Wednesday–Sunday, 11 a.m.–6 p.m.

—Sarah Cascone